WASHINGTON, NOV. 14, 1867.

THE METEORIC DISPLAY.

Commodore Sands, Superintendent of the Coast Survey, reports last night's observations: One hundred and twenty-five meteors' tracks were mapped down before 4.30 o'clock, when the meteors flew so thick that the identification of those seen from the two stations here became hopeless, and simple counting was resorted to. One thousand meteors were counted between 4.14 and 4.35 o'clock. Afterwards successive hundreds were counted at intervals. The first one thousand being partly counted while the mapping was still going on, it is probable one hundred more would be estimated that two thousand really fell in the course of twenty-one minutes. The time of the most dense shower of the meteors was four hours and twenty-five minutes. This is two hours later than given by the European observations of last year, showing a slight change of the position of the stars. The radiating point was very well defined, being in right ascension ten hours and one minute; declination twenty-two degrees and thirty seconds. Many were remarked for their brilliancy, and for a brilliant train, which usually vanished in a few seconds, but in one or two cases lasted several minutes. The most brilliant and thickest shower came from the direction of "Leo," which was about sixty degrees above the horizon. The course of the meteors was perfectly parallel, and the brighter ones were scattering ones from other directions.

THE MARYLAND INVESTIGATION.

The Committee on Judiciary, engaged in the Maryland investigation, was in session to-day. The case of a young colored woman, who was awarded by a jury one cent damages for assault by a white man, was investigated, and sentiments of a number of individuals as to loyalty or disloyalty inquired into. Nothing was elicited bearing on the question whether Maryland has a republican government.

THE TORNADO IN THE GULF.

The State Department is informed that five millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed by the tornado on October 8th. Six hundred houses were destroyed in Galveston, and the whole city was strewn with debris. Many vessels were ashore and others were scattering ones from other directions.

THE TORNADO IN THE GULF.

The State Department is informed that five millions of dollars worth of property was destroyed by the tornado on October 8th. Six hundred houses were destroyed in Galveston, and the whole city was strewn with debris. Many vessels were ashore and others were scattering ones from other directions, miles around Matagorda thrown down. At the mouth of the river there was scarcely a house left. All the river steamers were wrecked. Only half a dozen out. There were twenty persons killed and forty or fifty wounded.

IMPEACHMENT INVESTIGATION.

It is understood that the impeachment investigation will be resumed in a few days. Gen. Grant and Col. Hilyer will be recalled.

ASSESSOR SUSPENDED.

John W. Patterson, Assessor of Internal Revenue of the Fourth District, Virginia, was to-day suspended by the President on a charge of misconduct in office.

RECOVERED.

Gen. Skinner, First Assistant Postmaster General, has recovered and is attending to his duties to-day.

SECRETARY WELLES.

Secretary Welles is still in a critical condition, but slightly better.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

The Meeting Year—Mr. Stanton—Chief Justice Chase—The Grant Succession—Gen. Sherman and Vice General Rawlins—Post Items.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12, 1867.

For the first time this autumn we have a cheery turn in the weather. The season has been glorious, and the foliage unusual this city, crowning its rolling hills and covering its slopes, rich in all the beauty of the fading year. The activities peculiar to summer have been pushed on to the very verge of winter. Buildings have been urged forward to completion. Now, for the first time, a thorough system of draining by sewers, and the introduction of water, has been adopted. Good pavements are laid in the principal streets; houses with modern improvements are rising on every side; the public buildings are one after another approaching completion. Washington is slowly becoming fit for the national metropolis, considered as a city.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

Mr. Stanton has returned hither from his visit to his old home in Pittsburgh, benefited in health and in excellent spirits. The malignity of the Intelligencer against him surpasses belief. The mountain of rot and rascality it spouted out every day previous to the late deplorable election in New York is thrown aside, and in the character of "Big Injun" it deals on the paint, digs up the tomahawk, and, with a whoop, takes the war path. If any evidence were needed of the fidelity of Mr. Stanton to free principles, to every part of his duty—hard and disagreeable as it often was—while in the War office—we have it in the coarse parroted toward him by Mr. Johnson and his rebel friends and coadjutors. It is expected that, encouraged by the success of the rebellion in New York, the President will proceed to dismiss Mr. Stanton from the War Department unconditionally. In construing the language of the law as not withholding him from the dismissal of such members of the Cabinet as he himself did not appoint. It is probable that he will be promptly returned in a slightly remodelled condition from Virginia—has given an opinion "as is an opinion" on this subject. As this gentleman never studied law (or any other science) he is held to be just the man to give an opinion untrammelled by precedents or knowledge. Doubtless the United States Senate may have its own views of what it did mean by the law to prevent such dismissal without its "consent," and an interesting question this will be—and among the last presented to the public attention. Of course Mr. Stanton does not want to be burdened with a position which can confer no distinction upon him; but doubtless his admirable and matchless administration of the War Department through the tempest of that war will be so vindicated by the Representatives of both the States and the people, that he can retire crowned with their approbation from the disagreeable contact which, as a member of the Cabinet, he was obliged to tolerate—just as a doctor had to open an old sore, or cauterize a gangrened wound. Every Secretary in or out of the Cabinet, will be held in grateful remembrance, when the poor hand, "clothed with a little brief authority," and now raised against him, shall have long moulded—forgotten in its congenial mud.

JUDGE CHASE.

A strong movement is making here and elsewhere in important parts of the Union to bring out the name of the Chief Justice as a candidate for the Presidency. Throughout the South, where Republicans know whom they want, his name is said to be very acceptable. Documents in large numbers, intended to operate in his favor, have been scattered through the unreconstructed States, which, it is hoped, may be so brought into the Union that the true loyal people may speak their voice in the coming election. Earnest men all over the land are evidently looking toward him as a true and promotional representative of the great central ideas of republicanism. It would seem that the issues of the campaign are shaping themselves at a remarkably early period—the Convention even being probably eight months distant. Yet one hears on all hands the demand for speedy declarations from this or that man, as to all the questions of weight before the people, indicating, as it would seem, very decided opinions as already fixed in the public mind. And especially at the South is there fixed purpose, and intense earnestness, not only as touching the candidate, but the issues of the coming strife.

REBEL HOSTILITY.

This earnestness comes from the renewed hostility of the rebel element, since the success of their friends at the North. This day a missionary from a people not twenty miles from this city told the writer of this that he was accosted by a rebel at the depot with an assurance that "now our friends are uppermost in New York, we'll soon make all you d——d Yanks skip out of this as you did after Bull Run!" Such was the wanton spirit toward a poor self-denying missionary, whose life is spent in teaching and preaching the Gospel to a handful of poor white people, which he has gathered in a log school house in Fairfax county, Virginia. He does not even ask them to support him—that is done by the American Home Missionary Society. The noticeable point is that where a set of people are thus subjected in a hostile community to gross insult and even personal violence on account of certain entertained opinions; or because of their devotion to religion, or the cause of education, or any other distinctive scheme of goodness and benevolence, they are either extirpated, or, clinging for support to each other, like the grand old Covenanters of Scotland, they become a peculiar people, making the best works, with clearly defined ideas—sharp corners worn clean by the constant attrition—and foremost and most earnest in a cause which to them means life, liberty, comfort, happiness. And the success of the Republican party does mean just that and nothing less to the scorned, hated and persecuted unionists of the South of whatever complexion.

THE LAND OFFICE.

The annual report of the General Land Office this year is a marvellous paper. I doubt if there is any document issued by the Government which will so fully our country in so favorable a light to the outer world. There are nearly one and a half billion acres of public lands, presenting the greatest variety of soil in the world, and unbounded in all the minerals and precious metals. This report brings to public notice regions in Nevada and Montana, of beauty and fertility which, until now, have been as much hidden from the world and from us as Central Africa. Here are valleys separated by walls of mountains almost if not quite impassible, save where the rod of Omnipotence has smitten through them as if mere gates for the world's convenience. This report shows that we stand upon the great highway of the world, and that the Indian and Chinese trade is to come over the Pacific Railway by that invincible law of the nearest and most convenient transit. The Gazette must have a copy of this remarkable report of which the writer hereof saw the advance sheets only. The Land Office is by law restricted to the publication of 2,000 relatively few copies, but Congress can and ought to order the publication of a large edition, and circulate it in many languages. Hon. S. S. Wilson, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, is probably better versed in the land laws than any other man in the country, and has produced here a paper that is the result of forty years research and observation.

JEFF. DAVIS.

The case of this "Patriot" is the piece de resistance of all reportorial banquets. This morning we are assured the trial will commence on the 25th inst. Yesterday we were assured that it would be postponed. To-morrow quien sabe? But, dear Mr. Editor, what, after all, does the whole "engagement" to Wint are you going to try him for? Is it as to the fact of treason, i. e. of levying war against the United States? Who doubts that? Then it only remains to decide whether or not levying war against the United States is treason! and is there any man so demented as to suppose a Richmond jury will answer in the affirmative? No! The way the Davis imbroglio has been managed, there are but two men in the country to-day more great heroes in New York, and generally throughout the country, where Democracy rules, as Jeff., and they are Andy Johnson and Brick Pomeroy.

General Hancock's Arrival Anxiously Awaited—Details of Affairs.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, November 14.—Gen. Hancock's arrival is anxiously looked for by the citizens of New Orleans, who are hopeful he will correct the abuses of the city administration. At a meeting of the citizens, Wednesday night, a Committee was appointed to prepare resolutions laying the currency matter before General Hancock, and requesting him to act for their relief. The large bills of city issue are at 17 per cent. discount; small notes of the same issue are only three per cent. Five dollar bills, which a few days ago were only three and four per cent. discount, are now fifteen and seventeen. The Times lays the blame upon the Treasury officials. The Bulletin says: "Gen. Hancock comes to this community with the record of an educated and accomplished soldier and gentleman, and he should be welcomed as such." The Picayune says: "The most unbounded, cordial, and sincere welcome should welcome him here and present him their views of the necessities of the hour, and especially these unconnected with political affairs." And a committee be appointed to welcome the General and explain to him the city's deplorable condition.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The War Between Brazil and Paraguay—Treaty of Peace Between the Latter and Uruguay.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Tribune's Buenos Ayres correspondence says the Generals in the field have agreed to terms of peace, and sent them to their respective governments for confirmation. These terms are, briefly: The allies to evacuate the Paraguayan territory, and the Brazilian fleet the Paraguayan waters; Lopez, President of Paraguay, resigns in favor of the Vice President; and goes to Europe for two years; Paraguay yields all claim to the Grancheco territory; free navigation of rivers from source to the ocean granted; a neutral nation to fix the boundary between Paraguay and Brazil; expenses of the war to be borne by the belligerent respectively; prisoners of war exchanged without ransom; no claims of indemnity to be made; independence of Paraguay guaranteed; obstructions to the River Paraguay to be removed by Paraguayans within three months; each belligerent sends an agent to conclude a treaty of commerce and amity. An armistice was at once concluded, and the ratification of the treaty and exchange was to be accomplished as soon as possible.

Meteoric Display Thursday Morning.

—Prof. Watson, of the Michigan University, at Detroit, reports that, notwithstanding the light of the full moon and the smoky state of the atmosphere, a fine display of meteors was observable yesterday morning. The maximum occurred at near four o'clock, at which time they were counted at the rate of fifteen hundred per hour, although the actual number visible was much greater. At New York the showers did not appear in much force.

—Three hundred and thirty-four meteors were seen from Central Park Observatory, New York, Wednesday night, of which fifty-four left luminous trains behind. The greater portion were seen between three and five o'clock in the morning. Five hundred were counted in twenty minutes, at Wilmington, Del., and an observer thought two or three thousand were visible in all.

—Observers at Heck Hall, Evanston, Illinois, report that notwithstanding the sky was partially obscured by clouds and the full moon, a fine display of meteors was observed Wednesday morning. The maximum occurred between three and four o'clock, when eleven hundred and nine were counted between three twenty and four twelve. At Dearborn University a still larger number were seen.

—Prof. Loomis, of Yale College, reports about thirty thousand meteors yesterday morning. The observer at Dudley Observatory, Albany, counted one thousand three hundred.

—Prof. Harkness, of the National Observatory at Richmond, reports meteors in the vicinity of fifteen hundred an hour, yesterday morning at four o'clock.

—The meteoric display at Charleston, S. C., was very brilliant, lasting several hours.

"TIMES" ON THE ITALIAN SITUATION.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Times, in a leading editorial on the Italian question, refers to the last note of the Prime Minister Menebrea, boldly declaring that the abolition of the temporal power of the Pope is essential to the preservation of peace, and calls it Italy's ultimatum to France.

FENIAN PARDONED BY THE QUEEN.

Maguire, one of the five prisoners convicted of murder before the Special Commission at Manchester, and condemned to death, has been pardoned by the Queen. All through his trial Maguire stoutly maintained his innocence, declaring he was not even present on the police van when Sergeant Brett was killed.

COL. KELLY IN BELGIUM.

LONDON, Nov. 14—Evening—It is said the Fenian Col. Kelly, who was rescued from the police at Manchester, has appeared in Belgium.

BANK RETURNS.

Official returns of the Bank of England shows bullion has decreased £940,000 since the 7th.

A LONDON FOG.

A dense fog prevailed last night. No meteors were seen.

FRANCE.

CABINET APPOINTMENTS.

PARIS, November 14.—The Monitour publishes an Imperial decree making the following Cabinet appointments: M. Marie Oscar Pinard, Minister of State for the Interior; M. Pierre Mayne to be Minister of Finance.

THE POPE AND THE FRENCH TROOPS.

Previous to the departure of the French troops from Rome, the Holy Father received the staff officers in a body at the Audience Chamber of the Vatican, and addressed them in the most feeling manner. He expressed his happiness at having soldiers of France around him once more; but never had his happiness been so great as now, because of the present peril to which he had been exposed. He returned thanks to the officers, to France, and to Emperor Napoleon, for the deliverance of the Holy See. He was filled with grief to see Italy held out as a vanguard against Rome by a horde of anarchists, upon whose flag was inscribed "Rapine and Devastation." While the valor of the Pontifical troops had successfully defended the soil of the Church, the army of France had come to crown the splendid defense. The Pope concluded by saying that in the midst of his trouble he had the consolation of receiving sincere expressions of Catholic sympathy from all parts of the world. His Holiness then terminated the interview by giving his Apostolic blessing to the army of the people and Emperor of France.

ITALY.

FURORE AGAINST THE FRENCH.

LONDON, November 14—Evening.—Late dispatches received from Italy state that the feeling against the French on the part of the Italians has reached a perfect furore.

FRENCH TROOPS SENT FROM TOULON.

The authorities have taken precautions to prevent another outbreak, which was imminent, and more French troops had been dispatched from Toulon for Civita Vecchia.

King Victor Emanuel and Prime Minister Menebrea are very unpopular with the people.

Baron Natazzi, formerly Prime Minister, have openly joined the Radical party.

The King has called out the reserves of the Italian army, and ordered the formation of three large camps.

General Garibaldi is still closely confined.

The Florence Italia of this morning, however, scouts the fear of a coup d'etat by the insurgents. The same authority asserts that the National Diet will meet in a few days.

BELGIUM.

THE POSTAL TREATY.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 14.—By the new postal treaty negotiated between Belgium and the United States of America, the rate of postage on single letters, weighing half an ounce or less, is reduced to fifteen cents.

—The New Hampshire Democratic Convention yesterday nominated J. G. Sinclair for Governor. Over six hundred delegates were present. The resolutions declare fidelity to the Union and Constitution, against the Congressional plan of Reconstruction, taxation of the property of the State and nation without violating the national faith, and against sumptuary laws. George H. Pierre was nominated for Railroad Commissioner.

—The Tennessee State Teachers' Association, in session at Nashville, yesterday, memorialized the Legislature to pass a law inaugurating the Normal School system of teaching in the State. The question of mixing white and colored children in the same schools was not up for discussion.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

—The members of the Army of TennesseeSociety, in session at St. Louis, at a business meeting yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President—Gen. Rawlings; Vice Presidents—Generals Howard, G. A. Smith, Belknap, McArthur, Fairchild, Cavender; Recording Secretary—Col. L. M. Pavto; Corresponding Secretary—Gen. Hickenlooper; Treasurer—Gen. Corse. Chicago was selected as the next place of meeting. The Committee on McPherson monument reported over three thousand dollar on hand, which was left in the hands of the Committee for disposal. During the afternoon the members of the Society were conveyed in carriages through the city and visited all places of note in the suburbs. In the evening about two hundred officers and citizens sat down to a magnificent banquet at the Southern Hotel. The banquet was prolonged to a late hour, amid much harmony, and general good and hilarious feeling prvailed.

—A.E. A. Pollard, Historian of "Lee and his Lieutenants," was passing in front of the Maltby House, in Baltimore, yesterday, he was approached by a son and a nephew of Henry A. Wise, named John and Douglas Wise, each of whom fired a shot at Pollard, one passing through his right arm, he having his wife on his left arm at the time. Pollard drew a pistol, but was unable to raise it on account of the wound, and the ball from his weapon struck the pavement. The Wises came up from Richmond to obtain satisfaction from Pollard for a letter recently published by the latter, a reply to a letter of Henry A. Wise to his brother, "History of the War, and had previously declared their intention to shoot him at sight. They are both in custody to await an examination.

—A caucus of the radical majority of the Alabama Reconstruction Convention, Wednesday night, decided to send special messengers to Washington to ascertain from the leading Republicans how far Congress will permit the Convention to go on the question of disfranchising rebels, and yesterday the Convention, by a majority of fifty-seven, indefinitely postponed further action on the franchise question until Monday next. A resolution was adopted instructing the proper committee to report on the expediency of requiring former owners to pay the blacks wages for services from the date of the emancipation proclamation in May 20th, 1865. A land bill was introduced and reserved proposing to confiscate a part of the Selma and Meridian Railroad, which was constructed by the Confederate Government in aid of the rebellion, the proceeds of the same to go into the Educational Fund. An ordinance was introduced and referred to abolish State poll tax.

—Fires occurred at New York yesterday evening, at the piano warehouse of Geo. Steeke & Co., Walker street; loss $10,000; at the blind and sash manufactory of Jackson & Steemits, Forty-second street; loss $21,000, insured; and at Nos. 31 and 33 Dey street, the store of Ranwatt, cotton merchant, McCoy & Co., and Rowland & Sons, provision dealers; loss $30,000, partially insured.

—Six inches of snow fell at Springfield, Mass., yesterday.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE LATE EXPLOSION.

Continuation of the Coroner's Investigation—Evidence concluded—Adjournment till To-day.

The Coroner's jury in the cases of those killed by the boiler explosion at Reese, Graff & Dull's rolling mill, in the Ninth ward, on Friday of last week, continued their investigation at the Mayor's office:

Mr. A. J. Dull, recalled—Have procured some samples of iron from the house of Lyon, Shorb & Co., which have been drawn cold (samples exhibited). It has been stated in evidence that portions of the exploded boiler had been drawn from No. 3 or full quarter inch to No. 8. One of these pieces has been drawn from 4 inch square to 9-16 inch square, and the other pieces have been drawn correspondingly; one piece, an inch round, was drawn down to ⅝; these pieces were not hammered down but drawn out by means of a hydraulic press.

Thos. M'Culloch, sworn—Have been in the iron business; have witnessed the experiments made at Messrs. Lyon, Shorb & Co., in drawing bars of cold iron with their hydraulic press; have seen many bars drawn out; have no doubt that sheets of boiler iron could be drawn cold, and would show the same degree of reduction as in the case of bars. The friction in drawing would heat the iron, though not to a red heat.

Joseph Marshall, sworn—Am a member of the firm of Marshall & Brothers, iron manufacturers; have examined the exploded boilers; the iron in them was of the best quality. Brought away pieces of the boilers. (Exhibited the pieces.) They were cut off in my presence; have tested them, both hot and cold. The result proves the iron first rate; if the iron of the boilers had been fractured hot the fracture would be discolored and not bright, as it would be if it had been overheated. One piece of the plate the iron had been stretched one-half; the force of the steam sufficient to explode the boiler would, I think, have stretched it to this extent. In some of the plates seemed to have been a good deal heated, but not to a red heat; the boilers generally, did not have the appearance of having been overheated; the boiler plates could be stretched cold.

Mr. Joseph French, sworn.—Am Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Water Works, and was recently Inspector of Boilers for the United States Government; have examined the exploded boilers; one of the flues had, no appearance, at one end, of having been overheated, while the other was collapsed; think the flue could not have been overheated; could see no trace of a water line that would show that the water was low in the boilers the last moment, but at a short time before the explosion there was one hundred and twenty pounds of steam in the boilers; with that pressure the inner lining would be heated to about 347 degrees; this temperature would render the iron much easier to stretch than if perfectly cold; I have known injectors to be used with safety for several years; the main object in injectors is that there are more complicated than pumps. The explosion was caused by an over pressure. If the flues were entirely uncovered, the temperature there would be no reason why they should collapse one way sooner than another. When they were not entirely uncovered, and the top of the flue heated, they would collapse vertically. It would require about sixteen minutes to lower the water in the boiler two inches. I know that boilers have been cast asunder in less than 24 hours before Buffalo and Cleveland.

THE CONSOLIDATION QUESTION.

The Constitutionality of the Act to be Tested—Motion for a Preliminary Injunction.

In the Supreme Court, yesterday forenoon, Hon. Walter H. Lowrie, in connection with James Veech, Esq., moved for a preliminary injunction to stay all proceedings for the election proposed to be held on the second Tuesday of Dec. next, under the Act of Assembly of 6th April, 1867, entitled "A further supplement to the acts incorporating Pittsburgh," by which Lawrenceville boro. and Pitt, Peebles, Collins, Liberty and Oakland townships, (comprising, with the city, under the Act, the Middle District,) are claimed to have been consolidated with the city, a majority of the citizens thereof having voted in favor of the same at the last October election. The parties applying for the injunction contend that the consolidation act is unconstitutional.

The Court fixed Monday next as the time for hearing the argument on the motion, it being desirable to have the matter decided as soon as possible.

Following is a copy of the bill presented, by which the nature of the proceedings will appear more fully than we have stated. The facts set forth are verified by affidavit of Madison Bailey.

In the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, Western District.

William H. Smith, John Dunlap, Thomas Fawcett, Madison Bailey, William H. Brown, Charles J. Clarke, John McDevitt, Christopher Zug, John Moorehead, James McGinnis, G. H. Dauler, Samuel Mc Kee, vs. Hon. W. C. McCarthy, Robert Gracey, William Owens, P. McGovern, James V. Donaldson, Joseph C. Dickson, Joseph A. Butler, George Cochran, Sr., John Beatty, William Dilworth, Samuel E. Herron, Noah W. Shaffer, Peter Leitz, Joseph Hart, William Thompson, H. Ahlborn, H. Wightman, M. J. Green, Willis Bootbe, Jacob Glosser, Alexander Black, Isaac Jones, T. B. Young, William H. Harrison, John B. Baum, William R. Negley, Charles H. Paulson, Joseph Bilsbee, Charles H. Elder, Joseph G. Beale, John A. Berlin, James Joyce and William H. Morrison.

The above named plaintiffs, for themselves and such other citizens of Pittsburgh and the Twenty-second ward, the townships of Pitt, Collins, Oakland, Liberty and Peebles, in the county of Allegheny, as may choose to join themselves with them.

Respectfully represent that:

1. They are citizens and tax-payers within the territorial limits above described.

2. The defendants are the Mayor of Pittsburgh and the election officers in and for several parts of said territory.

3. The defendants, and other election officers of the several districts in the territory, or many of them, give out and ake known that the said territory has all been consolidated into one municipal corporation called the City of Pittsburgh, and that they intend, on the second Tuesday of December next, to hold an election in their several districts for the election of the members of the Councils, Mayor and other City officers, to take and exercise municipal jurisdiction over the whole of the said territory.

4. This is, in the opinion of the complainants, a usurpation of authority over the citizens of Pittsburgh, and especially over the citizens of the several townships above named, and of the boroughs of Lawrenceville, though the same is pretended to be justified and required by the Act of the 6th of April, 1867, entitled "a further supplement to the Acts incorporating the City of Pittsburgh," &c., [P. L. 846] which your orators regard as entirely void and unconstitutional.

5. If the said election should be allowed to proceed with the said election, there is great danger that the municipal affairs of the City of Pittsburgh and the said boroughs and townships will 1786. PROSPECTUS. 1868.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capital, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It is one of the most reading matter as any paper sold at twice dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

While the editorial department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and to condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and no effort to fit the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

Ample space has been reserved for market reports which can at all times be relied upon as correct, as the current quotations of Petroleum, farm products, cattle, &c., &c., are daily gathered from actual sales, by faithful and efficient reporters.

The letter news is collected with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced banker, who will render it quite an attraction and useful specialty to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and readable to members of all religious denominations.

The agricultural, art, science literary personal and other departments of the paper will be conducted in a manner which will prove satisfactory to the reader.

TERMS OF THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Delivered in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and all the adjacent Boroughs for 15 cents per week, payable to Carriers.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the day, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, it is without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the authority of quotations made at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their presentness to interfere with their exertions that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1867.

THE PRESIDENT is reported as promising to do fairly provided Congress will let him alone, and do whatever else he thinks it ought. He has made such promises before when Congress was in session or about to convene; but has not established a reputation of not making good his engagements in this respect. Probably, moreover, Congress will prefer to direct its own course, rather than have the President order it.

THE PUBLIC SERVICES of Mr. STEVENS are evidently drawing to a close through the failure of his physical powers. A man of large powers, but not of the largest; adroit and incisive rather than ponderous and profound; of unquestionable honesty, and convictions so deep as to be shaken neither by threateanings nor allurements; a leader of almost magical powers; blundering often, but never forfeiting the confidence of friends or followers; he presents a noble figure o his old age, and will appear in still grander proportion to the generation next to come.

CONSOLIDATION.

An application has been made to the Supreme Court, now in session in this city, for a preliminary injunction to stay all proceedings relative to the municipal consolidation determined at the popular election held last month. The argument upon this application will be heard on next Monday.

Lawyers of eminence have steadily contended that the legislative powers could not be delegated; that is, that the Legislature must make the law in each case, instead of referring the decision to the people interested. The Supreme Court has so held in other cases brought before it.

In view of this circumstance, while some lawyers have maintained that while the submission of this question of municipal consolidation to a popular vote was null and void, that the bill was perfect and effective in all other respects. This would imply that without a vote of the people, the several districts described in the bill are all actually consolidated.

Whether the whole matter, as thus considered, will be brought up in the argument and decision of the case, we do not know. Under any aspect the case is of considerable importance, and the progress of it will be watched with interest by our citizens.

THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.

The United States District Court is in session at Richmond, and Chief Justice CHASE is there. But this is only an adjourned session of the last term. The next term will commence on the 25th inst., and before it shall end the case of Mr. JEFFERSON DAVIS will be called. Mr. CHASE has already announced that he can remain away from Washington for a few days and no more, owing to the regular meeting of the Supreme Court.

There is no probability that Mr. DAVIS will appear for trial at this adjourned session. If he should appear, and the trial should proceed, there is scarcely a possibility it could be concluded before the new term would necessarily begin.

An expectation prevails pretty generally that Mr. DAVIS will be present in Court when his case shall be called. The opinion is about as prevalent that he will not be convicted. Singularly enough this belief is entertained most firmly by many of the Conservatives who were loudest in denunciation of his admission to bail. These men who hate radicalism; who maintain that participation in the rebellion, no matter how prominently, did not legally entail forfeitures or penalties, or, if it did, that it is most impolitic to enforce them; discovered reasons why they should raise a howl, not at the Court, for allowing bail, but at certain individuals for becoming bondsmen. They were only acting a part, and the conclusion of the drama may not be at all to their liking.

If Mr. DAVIS shall be acquitted it will not be for want of evidence showing that he was concerned in the rebellion, and committed treason against the government; but because of admissions, either in word or act, by the national government, and the rulings of the Judges thereupon. If Mr. DAVIS shall escape punishment in this way, it will be of consequence to note how far the rullnza go, in their necessary and inevitable applications, to justify the assumption of the radical that the revolted States are conquered provinces, and may rightfully be dealt with as such. It would seem to require an exposition of law, going to this full extent, to enable Mr. DAVIS to escape conviction. If he proceeds to trial at all, it is fair to infer that this will be, in essence, his line of defense; and we presume the Judges, whoever they may be, will admit its validity. Afterwards it will be different to avoid all other applications of the same principles.

If in consequence of the law being as this statement implies, Mr. DAVIS shall escape the punishment his crimes invoke, it will be some consolation to have his acquittal establish the conclusion that the government has an undoubted legal right to reconstruct the rebel States on such a basis as it shall judge to comport with the public safety, and with equal liberty of all classes of citizens.

ANARCHICAL MEXICO.

When the capture and execution of MAXIMILIAN made an end of the imperial monarchy established in his person over Mexico through French intervention, a feeling of grim satisfaction pervaded the minds of most of the people of the United States. This arose not so much from the conviction that the Mexicans had consummated a tragic deed of historic justice; or had done the best for themselves they could do under the circumstances; or had a reasonable prospect before them of establishing popular government on a permanent basis, comporting with individual freedom and public progress; but from a consideration of the fact that the extinguished dynasty was set up as a menace to this country, or, rather, as a type of what we would shortly come to. Gratified wrath had more to do with the exultation, than a sense that the Mexicans had entered upon a road that would lead them to repose and prosperity.

Having swept away the monarchy an appeal was made to the people to reestablish the republic, by electing a President and other needful officers. The partizans of JUAREZ believed they could control the result, and secure the popular verdict in his behalf. In their efforts to this end they did not trust mainly, or at all, to the popularity he might be presumed to possess in consequence of his sturdy and successful resistance of the invaders. The elections were supervised by the military force, as though all the States of the republic had been in revolt, and were actually conquered provinces. Even this did not suffice to make a clear thing for JUAREZ. After manipulating the returns as much as he and his followers dared, the election is in doubt.

This opens the way for a renewal of the old scenes of confusion and butchery. JUAREZ evidently means to maintain his position, if not by ballots, then by bayonets. Unfortunately for him the Treasury is empty, the estates of the Church already secularized, and no resources apparent for raising money. In this contingency he has sent an agent to this country to borrow twelve millions of dollars. How he proposes to secure the lenders, if such can be found, has not transpired, but considering that neither French nor British creditors have managed, even with powerful assistance rendered by their respective governments, to get their pay, or an assurance of it at some period, no matter how distant, it is not probable that American capitalists will be eager to take new bonds, and advance the cash upon them.

Failing to get the money from private sources, it is not unlikely this agent may tempt Secretary SEWARD with the offer of a land speculation. This would be making an appeal to his most vulnerable part. He has a marvellous infirmity for acquiring more territory, though the nation has now much more than it contrives to put to beneficial account. He is equally as infatuated as a farmer would be who should think it indispensable to his comfort and respectability to buy all the land contiguous to that he already possessed. He has solved the problem, moreover, that it is not difficult to get the Senate to confirm any insane land bargain he may make, or the House to vote the money required to complete the purchase.

But there is little ground to hope that the bankruptcy of the Mexican Treasury will keep the miserable factions of that country from plunging into civil war. That coadition, by long habit, has become almost their normal element. Peace agitates them with an unendurable unrest. They delight in storm and tempest; and prefer robbery to regular industry. Hence, the prospect is that the former scenes of anarchy will be renewed, to be terminated—who can tell?

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

A FOURTEEN WEEKS COURSE IN CHEMISTRY. By Dorman Steele, A. M., Principal of Elmira Free Academy. Published by A. S. Barnes & Co., New York. For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., Wood St. Pittsburgh.

This little volume, while it furnishes nothing original, it presents the principles and practical applications of Chemistry, in a simple and interesting form. Ordinarily, students of this beautiful science are required to spend a long time in acquiring a proper knowledge of it. Various modes have been used to shorten the time, by omitting or disguising the nomaclature. The author has omitted that which is perfectly obvious to the eye, and that is essential only to the chemist. The plan of the work is arranged that a pupil can master the study in a single term, so that all its truths may become to him "household words." Prominence is given to that part of chemical knowledge which concerns every-day life. We commend the work as one of decided merit.

ON THE WING. By Nellie Eyster, author of "Sunny Hours," "Wishing Charlie," Etc. Illustrated by White. Philadelphia: Delafield Ashmead; For sale by Davis, Clarke & Co., Pittsburgh.

"On the Wing" forms the third volume of the "Sunny Hour Stories" by this author. It is written in a racy, piquant style, and narrates in graphic language the wanderings and adventures of some younglings in the Northwest and South. It is a charming book to place in the hands of young people, and with safety, too, as a high moral tone pervades its pages.

Cometh up as a Flower. An Autobiography. Paper cover pp. 173. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

It is rarely that an autobiography is woven in such elegant, racy language, and so replete with sketching and penpictures. An elevated tone runs throughout the work, which renders it attractive and instructive. It is printed on white paper, fine clear type, and its edges neatly trimmed.

NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. No. CCXVII. October, 1867. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. $5. per year.

This stately quarterly enjoys and deserves preeminence among literary men, for its scholarly articles, and elevated tone. Papers of great worth are found in every number. Its circulation should be largely increased, as its matter is valuable, instructive and interesting. Under the editorship of such competent men as Prof. James Russell Lowell, and Mr. Charles Eliot Norton, its wide reputation will be sustained. The contents of the October number are George the Third and Lord North; the United States Naval Observatory; the Bank of England Restriction, 1797—1821; Arthur Hugh Clough; Civil Service of the United States; Our National Schools of Science King and Opport on Indo-European Philology; The Reformation of Prison Discipline; The Winthrop Papers, and Critical notices.

THE TENANTS OF MALORY. A Novel. By J. Sheridan Le Fanu, author of "Uncle Silas," "All in the Dark," etc. New York: Harper & Brothers, Publishers. Sold by Henry Miner, Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

This forms No. 300 of Harper's Library of Select Novels. The author enjoys the reputation of being a writer of much merit. His previous writings elicited the commendation of the London Times, and "The Tenants of Malory" will not lower the standard of excellence he has attained.

HARPER'S BAZAR. New York: Harper & Brothers, Publishers. For sale by all periodical dealers.

Two numbers of this new publication have appeared, surpassing our most sanguine expectations in every respect. It is the first weekly Journal of Fashion ever published in the United States. The mechanical execution of the Bazar, and elaborate and highly finished embellishments, have no equal in the realm of such publications. The plates are also much superior to those usually inserted in fashion journals. Besides, these numbers, and all future issues, will contain choice specimens of household literature, articles on etequette, house-keeping, topics of the day, etc. Everything bearing on household matters, which will make an American home pleasant and cheerful, will appear. The wealth and genius of this great house will be employed to make the Bazar par excellence. It is just the size of Harper's Weekly. Four dollars per year.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD. By Miss Thackeray. Loring, Publisher. Boston, 1867. For sale by Henry Miner.

The author of "Beauty and the Beast" will not lose in reputation by this publication, as it bears the same glowing style, and its reading will serve to beguile the tedium of time.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. Harper & Brothers, Publishers, New York.

This number completes the thirty-fifth volume, and is replete with articles of merit. It contains illustrated articles on the Mines of Santa Eulalie, Chihuahua; Personal Recollections of the War the Forest Fire and an Old Apple Woman, and other valuable matter. The plan of the work comprises Literature, Art, Industry, Popular Science, Aesthetics and Social Life. Brilliant as the past numbers have been, the ensuing volume promise to eclipse the past. Arrangements of the most comprehensive character have been made to increase the popularity of this monthly.

RIVERSIDE MAGAZINE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE. New York: Hurd & Houghton, Publishers.

The good name won by the first volume of this beautiful monthly, according to the prospectus for 1868, will be fully maintained. Step by step this Magazine has been rising in excellence. Its full-page illustrations are of exquisite beauty, life-like, and of the most popular cast for young people. Artists, such as Beard, De Haas, Nast, Hoppin, Stephens, and others, are engaged to furnish drawings. Writers of distinction, like Jacob Abbott, Helen C. Weeks, Alice and Phoebe Cary, Mary E. Dodge, and a long array of others are to furnish articles. Price $2.50 per annum. Special premiums offered to clubs.

GOOD SPEAKING. Part II. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This series is designed to present in an attractive form excellent stories as they appear in English and other current literatures. The idea is a fine one, and the selections are made with good judgment.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES. By Charles Dickens. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson. Pittsburgh: H. Miner.

This is the third volume of what is known as the People's Edition, and is illustrated by twelve original designs by John McLenan. Nor is the mechanical execution inferior to the artistic. The paper, type and general arrangementare altogether admirable.

QUEEN LITTLE PEOPLE. By Harriett Beecher Stowe. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

Mrs. Stowe writes well and for excellent ends; and this volume is not an exception to her merits.

LAYTON HALL. By Mark Lemon. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson & Bro. Pittsburgh: H. Minor.

This is a new volume by the editor of "London Punch," and in its hands not more than that need be said.

RIENZI: The Last of the Roman Tribunes. By Bulwer. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A fresh and acceptable installment of the "Globe" edition, than which none presents the great novelists in more desirable form.

YOUNG AMERICA ABROAD. By Oliver Optic. Boston: Lee & Shepard. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A story of travel and adventure in Ireland and Scotland, entertaining and instructive.

WIDOW SPRIGGINS and other Sketches, by the Author of "Widow Bedott Papers." New York: George W. Carlton & Co. Pittsburgh: J. W. Hitchcock.

The glowing humor and cutting satire of Mrs. Witcher commend her volumes to all who have had a taste of her style.

THE GUARDIAN ANGEL. By O. W. Holmes. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

The author of the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" conceives of all subjects in a way peculiar to himself. He has opinions of his own, and a fresh and original way of stating them—even those who do not concur in his ideas are constrained to admit his earnestness and power. The present volume bears the impress of the mental mill which produced it.

In this volume Dr. Lord depicts the grandeur of the ancient Roman Civilization and its failures. Of course, his purpose in it, is a high and serious one. Bringing to the task abundant scholarship, a careful study of the subject, and a mind deeply imbued therewith, he has produced a work of uncommon power and interest.

BREAKING AWAY. By Oliver Optic. Boston: Lee & Shepherd. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is the second volume of what is known as the "Starry Flag Series." Originally issued in parts in a monthly magazine, it had a wide popularity, which it still sustains.

LEAF PRINTS, or Glimpses of Photography. By Charles F. Hines, P. H. D. Philadelphia: Benerman & Wilson. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A treatise upon the methods suggested for taking impressions of leaves for botanical purposes by photography.

LUCILE. By Owen Meredith. With twenty-four illustrations by Du Maurier. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a poem of 281 pages, that has we think, no prototype, but is original, peculiar, unique, showing that all the resources of cadence and rhythm had not been exhausted. In metrical form it is purely original, and affords a pleasant surprise. Nor is this its only or greatest excellence. It has many passages of rare beauty.

The typographical and artistic execution of the volume is delightful, fitly bodying forth the poet's exquisite thoughts.

SNOW BOUND. A Winter Idyl. By John Greenleaf Whittier. With illustrations. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A new edition of a poem that has won deserved and permanent popularity. The illustrations for it were drawn by Harry Fenn, from sketches made by him during a visit to the scene of narration. The execution throughout is most admirable.

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT. By Mrs. R. H. Davis, author of "Life in the Iron Mills," "Margaret Houth," etc. New York: Sheldon & Company, Publishers. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

This book presents phases of life among the humbler classes of society, in a manner which is both interesting and instructive. The plot covers events of the late rebellion, in which the noble, heroic conduct of some of the despised, proscribed race, on account of their color, is brought out in vivid language. Passages of touching interest abound throughout the volume, in which are developed the inner conflict of some of the prominent characters, and are strikingly interesting. Covering scenes of such an eventful period in our national history, the book will doubtless have a wide sale.

THE SEXTON'S TALE AND OTHER POEMS. By Theodore Tilton. New York: Sheldon & Co. Pittburgh: Henry Miner.

Tilton has acquired much of his name as a writer, both in prose and poetry, by the abandon style of his creations. The editorials in the Independent show this characteristic feature in a marked degree. While his style is graceful, courtly, there is also a majesterial air. Withal there may be traced a gentle thought in the bitterest article, which emanates from his pen. The volume before us comprises "The Sexton's Tale;" twelve pages, and about thirty smaller poems. We have read most of the pieces, and have been charmed with their ringing melody, elevated moral tone, patriotic sentiments, and touchingly beautiful home scenes, so tenderly woven into verse. The sharply defined views of the author crop out here and there in vigorous words. The dainty-word painting will charm even the unpoetic reader. Besides the "Sexton's Tale," "The True Church," "The Parson's Courtship," "No and Yes," "The Victory of Life," "The Mother's Prayer," etc., are of decided merit, and will richly repay reading. The publishers have brought the work in daisy style.

HARPER'S PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

Number 21, treats of the War on the Mississippi, and the battle of Chancellorsville. No. 22, the Invasion of Pennsylvania, and battle of Gettysburg, Gen. Meades' Campaign in Virginia. The Chattanooga Campaign—battle of Chickamauga, comprises the 23d number. The 24th contains the Siege of Knoxville, the Defeat of Bragg, and Sheridan's Meridian March. The illustrations are very superior, and many of them full paged. Maps and plans of battles of great value are scattered throughout the work. It is carefully edited and wrought out of original sources. Its value lies in the future as well as in the present. The publishers, Messrs. Harper & Brothers, announce that the matter of the remaining numbers, some half a dozen, are about ready for the press and will soon appear.

CIRCE; OR THREE ACTS in the Life of an Artist. By Babington White. Paper cover; pp. 146.

STORK EDGE. A Tale. New York: Harper & Brothers. For sale by Henry Miner, Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

The first named forms number 299 of Harper & Brothers Library of Select Novels. Lawrence Bell, the artist and principal character, was favored with rich gifts of grace, genius and beauty. Bright as his career opened, the closing up of life is darkened by bitter experiences. The writer assumes that the history of the artist was a protest against the worship of the sensuous in art.

"Stone Edge," a tale of decided merit, covering domestic scenes wrought out in graceful language. It will be read with interest by many, and will be widely circulated.

THE REBELLION RECORD; a Diary of American Events. D. Van Nostrand, Publisher, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

Part sixty-eight, with portraits of Generals Ingalls and Weitzell. This work, edited by Frank Moore, has obtained a worthy name for its intrinsic merits, as a faithful portraiture of the Great Rebellion. Valuable information will have a permanent record in this work, that otherwise might have been lost. The work also furnishes important material for the future historian.

MISCHIEF.—Mischief is brewing when you least suspect it. When, through carelessness, your teeth decay and get loose in the socket, you will then find mischief brewing. Avoid it and keep your teeth and gums sound, with pure breath, by using WARD'S FLUID AND POWDERED DENTIFRICE.
Sold wholesale and retail by
JOSEPH FLEMING,
No. 81 Market street, and all Druggists.

WOUNDED.—He jests at scars that never felt a wound. But once experience the pain and anguish caused by neglected teeth, and you will then be glad to avail yourself of the preserving qualities contained in WARD'S FLUID AND POWDERED DENTIFRICE.
Sold wholesale and retail by
JOSEPH FLEMING,
No. 81 Market street, and all Druggists.

Why Shake? Why Burn?
Put these two questions to a man passing through the alternate paroxysms of Fever and Ague, and he will probably reply, "because I cannot help myself."
But he is mistaken. He can help himself. He need not continue to endure the narrow-searching cold and parching heat of intermittent fever unless he chooses.
If this is an established fact in the history of medication, it is this: that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS invariably breaks up the fit of this exhausting disease.
Quinine often fails, and whether it fails or not, it is always a dangerous medicine. It stupifies the brain. The Bitters have no such effect. Quinine shatters the nervous system. The Bitters, on the contrary, build up the nervous system in fact, a specific for nervous ailments.
Be effectual, as a general rule, are bad or false. Not so with the Bitters. Its operation is gentle, it is mild and agreeable, yet pungent and nauseating. Its effects are felt from the first dose, but its intermittent fevers, and this excellent tonic and alterative gives proof that it is the remedy of the highest order. The stimulant employed to diffuse its healing properties through the organs of the body is correctly pure, and this cannot be said of all the bitters that are in the market. The best service that can be given to persons residing in malarious regions, or in crowded cities, is to use it as a preventive of the severest incident to both. Whether used as a protective shield, or a remedy, it will be found wonderfully efficacious.

The Greatest Success Known.
We are credibly informed that during the month of October there was sold in this city alone over TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED BOTTLES of DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP. These bottles of medicine show one thing infallibly, and that is that thousands of people are afflicted with coughs and colds. It also heralds to fame beyond all doubt DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is the greatest of all remedies for such diseases.
The Doctor propos s to crush the money when the Proprietor can be found in every case of hoarseness, recent cough, blood spitting, Croup, or any incipient lung disease. The fame of DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL CUGH SYRUP is now as wide as the boundaries of our State, and in many cases has gone far beyond these limits.
Of the one hundred and sixty thousand computed citizens of Pittsburgh, not one can afford to do without this wonderful medicine. Its often attended speed ness of cure; its success in every household where it has been used; its being free from noxious ingredients; the well known competency of harmless ingredient, has made DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP to be acknowledged by not only by the people who have had occasion to use it, but has introduced it to the notice and use of many of the most respectable of the medical profession. Sold at the Doctor's Great Medicine Store, 76 Wood street.

BREAKING AWAY. By Oliver Optic. Boston: Lee & Shepherd. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is the second volume of what is known as the "Starry Flag Series." Originally issued in parts in a monthly magazine, it had a wide popularity, which it still sustains.

LEAF PRINTS, or Glimpses of Photography. By Charles F. Hines, P. H. D. Philadelphia: Benerman & Wilson. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A treatise upon the methods suggested for taking impressions of leaves for botanical purposes by photography.

LUCILE. By Owen Meredith. With twenty-four illustrations by Du Maurier. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a poem of 281 pages, that has we think, no prototype, but is original, peculiar, unique, showing that all the resources of cadence and rhythm had not been exhausted. In metrical form it is purely original, and affords a pleasant surprise. Nor is this its only or greatest excellence. It has many passages of rare beauty.

The typographical and artistic execution of the volume is delightful, fitly bodying forth the poet's exquisite thoughts.

SNOW BOUND. A Winter Idyl. By John Greenleaf Whittier. With illustrations. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

A new edition of a poem that has won deserved and permanent popularity. The illustrations for it were drawn by Harry Fenn, from sketches made by him during a visit to the scene of narration. The execution throughout is most admirable.

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT. By Mrs. R. H. Davis, author of "Life in the Iron Mills," "Margaret Houth," etc. New York: Sheldon & Company, Publishers. For sale by Henry Miner, 71 and 73 Fifth street.

This book presents phases of life among the humbler classes of society, in a manner which is both interesting and instructive. The plot covers events of the late rebellion, in which the noble, heroic conduct of some of the despised, proscribed race, on account of their color, is brought out in vivid language. Passages of touching interest abound throughout the volume, in which are developed the inner conflict of some of the prominent characters, and are strikingly interesting. Covering scenes of such an eventful period in our national history, the book will doubtless have a wide sale.

THE SEXTON'S TALE AND OTHER POEMS. By Theodore Tilton. New York: Sheldon & Co. Pittburgh: Henry Miner.

Tilton has acquired much of his name as a writer, both in prose and poetry, by the abandon style of his creations. The editorials in the Independent show this characteristic feature in a marked degree. While his style is graceful, courtly, there is also a majesterial air. Withal there may be traced a gentle thought in the bitterest article, which emanates

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.
BY JOHN W. GEARY, GOVERNOR.

From the creation of the world, in all ages and climes, it has been customary to set apart certain days for special religious observance. This has not always been influenced by the light of Christian knowledge, nor by any proper conception of the character of that Great Being "who ruleth the earth in righteousness," and "who daily loadeth with his benefits;" but by an innate sense of the existence of an over-ruling Power, by which the world and all it contains are governed and controlled. Aided by the dictates of cultivated reason, and the teachings of Divine revelation, we, however, are taught to recognize in that Supreme Ruler a Heavenly Father, to whom we are indebted for existence and all the blessings we enjoy, and to whom we owe constant and fervent thanksgiving and praise. It is He who "ruleth the earth and watereth it;" who "setteth the furrows and blesseth the springings thereof;" who crowneth the year with his goodness, and whose paths drop fatness;" who "clothest the pastures with flocks, and coverest the valleys with corn; who makeleth the out-goings of the morning and the evening to rejoice;" who is "our refuge and strength;" who "maketh war to cease," and "saveth us from our enimies;" whose "throne is forever and ever," and who "blesseth the nations whose God is the Lord."

On all sides we have increased assurances of the "loving kindness" of an All-wise Parent of Good, who has conducted our nation through a long and terrible war, and permitted our people to once more repose in safety, "without any to molest them or make them afraid." The monstrous sentiment of disunion is no longer tolerated. The Flag, the Union, and the Constitution are esteemed as the safeguards of the rights and liberties of the people, and are revered and defended as the ark of their political safety.

A kind Providence has not grown weary of supplying our continuous wants. A bounteous harvest has rewarded the labors of the husbandman. Flocks and herds are scattered in countless numbers over our valleys and hills. Commerce is uninterrupted, and vessels laden with the products of nature and of art, speed, unmolested, over the trackless deeps. Neither pestilence, famine, political or social evils, financial embarrassments or commercial distress, have been permitted to stay the progress and happiness of the people of this great Common wealth, but peace, health, education, morality, religion, social improvement and refinement, with their attendant blessings, have filled the cup of comfort and enjoyment to overflowing.

Recognizing our responsibility to Him who controlls the destinies of nations as well as of individuals, and "from whom cometh down every good and perfect gift," and to whom we are deeply indebted for all these and the richer blessings of our common Christianity, let us unitedly give our most devout gratitude and heartfelt thanksgiving.

I, therefore, do hereby recommend that THURSDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, be set apart as a day of praise and thanksgiving, that all secular and worldly business be supended, and the people assemble in their various places of worship, to render to the their gratitude and offer up prayers for a continuance of Divine favor.

GIVEN under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this thirty-first day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-second.

JNO. W. GEARY.

By the Governor:
F. JORDAN, Secretary of State.

Among the trifles light as air we see that the distinguished naval hero, Commodore Nutt, will soon lead the lovely Miss Minnie Warren to the altar.

According to the New York News, we ought to be able to scratch our heads well, because there are so many mills for the manufacture of nails here.

A little girl in Philadelphia, while at school the other day, stood with her back to the stove, and her clothes caught fire, and before they could be extinguished she was so severely burned that she died in great agony in a few hours. It is hoped, says the Bulletin, that this will make the Board of Control see the necessity of providing fenders for all school fire places.

The Black Crook is to close at Niblo's late in the winter and is to be succeeded by "Undine," a dramatization of Fouque's novel. An immense ballet troupe has been collected in Europe for this piece. The dancers having arrived too soon, Jarrett and Palmer are about to produce Undine at Crosby's Opera House, in Chicago, with the dramatis personæ very strongly cast, Lady Don being included in the stock.

The Southerners are delighted with what they call the reaction. Progress and reform are dead ducks to them now, and their jubilees are long and deep. One Southern paper is so impressed with the belief not only that progress has stopped, but that retrogression has begun, that it openly changes its grammar and spelling and now spells music, musick, honor, honour, and says, the editor, his leader, instead of the editor's leader. Would it not be well to call the self-styled Democrats retrogressers?

The impudence of some persons is actually beyond all computation. Anna Dickinson, while aboard the naval school ship, wrote her own name in the visitors book, and then deliberately erased the signatures of Andrew Johnson, the Commander-in-Chief of the Navy and Army. As long as Mr. Johnson holds his position as President of the United States no name is more appropriate in the ship school register, and Miss Dickinson's insolence would be unmarkable in any one else.

Mr. Bushart, editor of the Troy Sunday Herald, was attacked and horse whipped in Troy, N. Y., on Sunday last, in the public street. He succeeded, however, in driving off his assailant, who felt aggrieved by some paragraphs in the paper. Editors would have a hard time if they were always punished thus for articles dissatisfactory, for we venture to say that there is rarely a local item published in a city paper which does not hurt somebody, either directly or otherwise.

A horrible murder has been committed in Milwaukee. A young gentleman named Augustus Tesch was found lying by the railroad dead, having been shot in three places. The victim was but nineteen years old, and it is not known how much money he had about him, though the deed was evidently committed merely to render robbery easier by stopping resistance. The Milwaukee Sentinel says in regard to the above: "We have to record the most atrocious crime that has occurred in this vicinity for many years. The commission of several outrages within the past week has proved that some desperate characters were at work in this city, and inspired a feeling of alarm among our citizens; but it was not expected that they would dare to commit such an atrocity as that which profaned the beautiful Sabbath morn of yesterday, in the light of a bright November sun."

Come to the Dickens. That is just what we are probably all going to do, if he comes here; but why, if Mr. Dickens chooses to present himself before us in the character of a showman, we are to treat him as if he were something sublime, is something which goes beyond the comprehensions of most people. The papers have been full of all sorts of gentle hints to the public, such as "Mr. Dickens does not like to have persons leave the room while he is reading." Now, any sane person would suppose that Boz was like other persons, and would take it for granted that this hint was true. But people do and will leave rooms on all occasions, and there is no reason why any more deference should be paid to the great novelist, than to Murdock, or any other prominent reader. Then it is said again that "Mr. Dickens will visit no western city which will not guarantee him a full house at two dollars a head." Who is to do this guaranteeing? Are our city fathers to humbly approach his highness? Or would a deputation of leading citizens be better? Such hints, we repeat, are absurd, and not merely that, but they verge on impertinence. If any one should be invited to play before crowded houses, it should be the patriotic Murdock, the blind-hunted Mrs. Lander, or the pre-eminent American actor, Joe Jefferson. Mr. Dickens has inadvertently delighted us all with his novels. We say inadvertently because the books were never written for us, and he never mentions one of our countrymen in other tones than those of exaggerated disparagement or ridicule. None of us owe him anything, and therefore he should come before us as other artists do, seeking our approval, not dictating it.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—The best Farm in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., containing about 300 Acres, situated six miles south of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Four Stations. The improvements are a two storied log house, with nine rooms, a good cellar; a frame bank barn, 60x90, with the rest of stabling. Two apple and one peach orchard. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; the fencing is all No. 1; the soil is good, and is well watered; about 200 Acres cleared, the remainder is good white oak timber. This property is offered at the low price of fifty dollars per Acre. Possession immediately.

Also, a Farm of 93 Acres in Penn township, Westmoreland county. 70 Acres cleared and under cultivation, 23 Acres of first-rate white oak and other timber, 2 dwelling houses, 1 of them 2 stories, the other 1 story, with a tenant house, with a first-rate Steam Sawmill in good running order; young orchard of grafted fruit. The land is rolling; every acre is tillable, with limestone soil and subsoil, with never failing springs; within one hundred rods of the Penna. Central Railroad; 35 miles east of Pittsburgh, and three miles west of Greensburg. This farm is pleasantly and slightly situated in a good neighborhood; every Acre is underlaid with coal. The title is good.

Also, 50 Acres in Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., about four miles of Blairsville, and three miles of two stations on the Pa. R. R. The improvements are a new two story dwelling house and outbuildings; a new steam saw and grist mill, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the necessary fixtures, and a young orchard of choice fruit trees. The whole tract is underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened, and an abundance of limestone. The mill will be sold very low, if applied for soon.

Also, the best Hotel in the Borough of Indiana, the county seat of Indiana county, Pa. This is a large four story brick building, of 54 rooms, and a basement under the whole house, and is situated on the corner of Philadelphia and Diamond streets, on 60 by 30 feet lot, and the premises is a frame house 21 by 60 feet, used as a coach house in the lower stories and a loft room above; also, a frame stable 60 by 40 feet; also, a barn 36 by 60 feet, on which is a large frame stable, used as a livery stable. The whole property has recently been painted and repaired throughout, and is one of the best locations for a public house in Western Pa., and will be sold very low and applied for soon.

Also, a Farm of 1-2 acres, at half price, to a cash customer. This farm is in Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., within two miles of Latrobe, and within one mile of R. R. Depot, is cleared and under good fencing, the residue 12 acres in good white oak, black oak, hickory, black walnut and locust timber. This is a first rate farm, in a high state of cultivation, with good orchard of choice fruit, and a frame house of 8 rooms; large barn, 50, by 85 feet, and has coal and limestone under the whole tract, and is convenient to churches, schools, mills, &c.

Also, a Farm of 127 acres, within 1½ miles of the Penna R. R., at Carpenter's station, three from Latrobe; 100 acres of the land is cleared and under good fencing, the residue of the tract in white oak timber. There is a house and barn and an acre of young apple orchard on the premises. It is good limestone soil, with an abundance of water, and is offered at the low price of $50 per acre, on good time, because the owner is engaged in other business and cannot attend to it.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Report of the Common Improvement Adopted—Seminary Hill to be Included in the Grounds.

A regular meeting of Allegheny City Councils was held Thursday evening, November 14th.

SELECT BRANCH.

Members present—Messrs. Brown, Drum, English, Ganz, Hall, Hillerich, Irwin, Motherel, Myler, McCormick, Pace, J. C. Patterson, A. D. Smith, W. Smith, Thomas and, President McBrier.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Irwin, presented a petition from the Hutchinson Oil Refining Company, asking permission to construct a switch from the railroad to their grounds. Referred to Committee on Streets, with power to act.

Mr. Myler, a petition for a water pipe from the corner of Fayette and Manhattan to Page street. Referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. J. C. Patterson, a petition for a water pipe on Locust street. Referred to Water Committee.

Mr. Motherel, a petition from property holders on Franklin street, asking permission to pave the same. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Brown presented a petition from the citizens residing on and near Lime Alley, asking for the opening of an alley to enable them to reach their property. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Myler presented the profile, showing the grade of Taggart street, as submitted to Street Committee by the City Engineer. Adopted.

Mr. English presented the report of the Park Improvement Commission, published in yesterday's GAZETTE, accompanied by the following resolutions:

Resolved, By the Select and Common Councils of the City of Allegheny, That the report of the Park Commission be and the same is hereby accepted and ordered to be filed.

Resolved, That the plan and specifications of Messrs. Mitchell, Grant & Co., submitted by the Park Commission with their said report for the making of Public Parks in the City of Allegheny, on the Common Grounds and Seminary Hill, be and they are hereby approved.

The report was received and the resolutions adopted.

Mr. Thomas presented the report of the Water Committee, recommending the laying of water pipes on First Alley and Buena Vista street, accompanied by a resolution authorizing the same to be done.

Mr. A. D. Smith was opposed to laying much more water pipe this season. He thought they could get along without it.

Mr. Brown said the Committee had not recommended the laying of water pipes wherever it could be dispensed with. That it, every instance where they had recommended the resources will pay from 15 to 20 per cent. on the investment.

Mr. Hall said he did not like to object to laying water pipe, but he did not like to vote for it, when there was no money in the Treasury.

Mr. Brown said that if the Finance Committee had issued bonds, as they were instructed to do by Councils, there would have been money in the treasury sufficient to defray the expenses.

Mr. Hall thought the Finance Committee had done what they were directed to do by Councils.

Mr. Myler thought they had better lay the laterals to the pipes wherever they had laid the main ones.

The resolution was adopted.

A resolution authorizing the transfer of thirty thousand dollars to appropriation No. II (water,) was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. A. D. Smith, submitted the report of the City Controller, showing the expenditures for the month, accompanied by a resolution authorizing the payment of the bills.

The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Smith offered a resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to borrow $24,000, which was accepted.

Mr. Myler presented the report of the Committee on Streets, accompanied by an ordinance authorizing the opening of Rebecca street. The report was received.

The resolution authorizing the opening of Rebecca street, was then taken up, and after considerable discussion was defeated.

Mr. Smith presented the report of the Finance Committee, in which they report adversely to the semi-monthly payment of city employees. The report also contained a resolution prohibiting committees and others from contracting debts without the authority of Councils. The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Motherel presented a resolution authorizing the payment of the bill of Smith and Orr, contractors for grading Franklin street, amounting to $623 30, and authorizing the issue to the ward improvement fund. Adopted.

Mr. Myler offered a resolution that the Committee on Engines be instructed to purchase a hose carriage for Fire Company Chester Hose Company. Referred to Committee on Engines.

Mr. Drum offered a resolution exonerating Messrs. McIntyre, McNaugher & Co. from paving the sidewalk on Ridge street and Grant avenue, provided the time is not extended beyond Jan. 1st, 1868. Adopted.

C. C. concurred in all action of S. C. requiring the same.

On motion Councils adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Dunham, Drennan, Dill, Hanna, Horn, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, Means, Moul, McDonald, McNeil, Reed, Smith, Voegtley, Windsor and Riddle, President.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Smith presented a communication from the Firemen's Association of the city, notifying the Councils that the Association had perfected an organization, selected officers, and asked Councils to appoint a similar Committee from the Association to perfect rules for the government of the department.

Mr. Hanna stated that as the city paid the firemen for their services, the Councils should have the exclusive government of the Department, and moved that the communications be referred to the Committee on Fire Engines.

Mr. Megraw said that every company had joined the Association except one, which had stiffened its neck for a trifle. This disagreement should not have any effect, and Councils should recognize the Association.

Mr. Dill had been of the opinion that the Association was an independent organization, and only declared that he would recognize it. He did not know the parties who constituted it, and hoped Councils would refer the matter to the proper Committee, who could make the proper inquiries.

Mr. Smith said that five of the companies of the city had organized the Association, and all they desired was that Councils should recognize them and give them at official existence. The speaker said that he had been handed the communication a few minutes before presenting it, and was not aware of its contents at that time.

A vote was taken on Mr. Hanna's amendment, when it was declared lost.

The yeas and nays were then called on the passage of the resolution, which resulted in seven yeas to six nays—Messrs. Dill, Hanna, Moul, Reed and President Riddle voting in the negative.

A petition for the opening of Montgomery alley was read and referred to the Committee on Surveys.

A petition for a change of the grade of Jefferson street was read and referred to the Committee on Streets.

A petition for the continuation of water pipes on Western avenue to Beaver street, in the Fifth ward, was read and accepted.

Mr. McDonald, from the Committee on Claims, presented a report recommending the erection of a number of public gas lamps in various parts of the city. The report was accepted, and the recommendations adopted.

Mr. Moul presented the report of the Committee on Surveys, recommending the widening of Pitt alley. The report was received.

The report of the Committee on Markets, covering the reports of the Clerk of Markets and Weighmasters for the month of October, was read and ordered to be filed.

Mr. Reed, from the Committee on Engines, presented a report, with resolutions, recommending the purchase of the Hope hose carriage and harness, at a cost not to exceed one thousand dollars, recommending that the cost incurred in the suits growing out of the difficulty between the city and the General Grant Fire Company be paid, and that a lot be purchased for the Sixth ward hose company at a cost of $800.

Mr. Megraw objected to the city investing money in the hose carriage of the Hope Company.

Mr. Hanna stated that the Hope was the only fire company in the city, and it should be paid back the amount it had expended for its hose carriage, in order to put it on a proper footing with the other companies.

Mr. Smith said he thought it out of place for a member of Council to say that the Hope was the only fire company in the city. He was acquainted with the members of the Company, and knew that they would not desire to stigmatize the other companies of the city by repudiating them as firemen.

Mr. Hanna explained. He did not intend to say that the Hope was the only fire company in the city, but the best.

Mr. Smith said the explanation was satisfactory.

The report was then accepted and the resolutions adopted.

The report of the Commissioners on Common Ground Improvement, which had been adopted in Select Council, was called up and read.

Mr. McNeil stated that he was satisfied that $200,000 would not pay ten per cent. on the amount required to carry out the proposed improvement.

Mr. Slagle moved as an amendment that so much of the report as provided for the improvement of Seminary Hill be stricken out.

Mr. M'Neil said that the only redeeming feature in the report was the improvement of the hill.

The chairman agreed with Mr. M'Neil that the hill should be improved.

The yeas and nays were called on the adopting of the report as read, resulting in its passage. Yeas, thirteen; nays, four —Messrs. Dunham, Dill, Horn and Means voting in the negative.

Mr. Drennan offered a resolution, granting the Firemen's Association the privilege of holding their meetings in the Common Council Chamber. Adopted by a vote of eight yeas to seven nays.

Mr. Smith offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the City Engineer be instructed to submit to Councils a profile of Federal street, from the St. Clair street bridge to the City and Allegheny on the Common Grounds and Seminary Hill, be and they are hereby approved.

The report was received and the resolutions adopted.

Mr. Thomas presented the report of the Water Committee, recommending the laying of water pipes on First Alley and Buena Vista street, accompanied by a resolution authorizing the same to be done.

Mr. A. D. Smith was opposed to laying much more water pipe this season. He thought they could get along without it.

Mr. Brown said the Committee had not recommended the laying of water pipes wherever it could be dispensed with. That it, every instance where they had recommended the resources will pay from 15 to 20 per cent. on the investment.

Mr. Hall said he did not like to object to laying water pipe, but he did not like to vote for it, when there was no money in the Treasury.

Mr. Brown said that if the Finance Committee had issued bonds, as they were instructed to do by Councils, there would have been money in the treasury sufficient to defray the expenses.

Mr. Hall thought the Finance Committee had done what they were directed to do by Councils.

Mr. Myler thought they had better lay the laterals to the pipes wherever they had laid the main ones.

The resolution was adopted.

A resolution authorizing the transfer of thirty thousand dollars to appropriation No. II (water,) was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. A. D. Smith, submitted the report of the City Controller, showing the expenditures for the month, accompanied by a resolution authorizing the payment of the bills.

The report was received and the resolutions adopted.

Mr. Smith offered a resolution authorizing the Finance Committee to borrow $24,000, which was accepted.

Mr. Myler presented the report of the Committee on Streets, accompanied by an ordinance authorizing the opening of Rebecca street. The report was received.

The resolution authorizing the opening of Rebecca street, was then taken up, and after considerable discussion was defeated.

Mr. Smith presented the report of the Finance Committee, in which they report adversely to the semi-monthly payment of city employees. The report also contained a resolution prohibiting committees and others from contracting debts without the authority of Councils. The report was received and the resolution adopted.

Mr. Motherel presented a resolution authorizing the payment of the bill of Smith and Orr, contractors for grading Franklin street, amounting to $623 30, and authorizing the issue to the ward improvement fund. Adopted.

Mr. Myler offered a resolution that the Committee on Engines be instructed to purchase a hose carriage for Fire Company Chester Hose Company. Referred to Committee on Engines.

Mr. Drum offered a resolution exonerating Messrs. McIntyre, McNaugher & Co. from paving the sidewalk on Ridge street and Grant avenue, provided the time is not extended beyond Jan. 1st, 1868. Adopted.

C. C. concurred in all action of S. C. requiring the same.

On motion Councils adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present: Messrs. Dunham, Drennan, Dill, Hanna, Horn, Kirkpatrick, Megraw, Means, Moul, McDonald, McNeil, Reed, Smith, Voegtley, Windsor and Riddle, President.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Smith presented a communication from the Firemen's Association of the city, notifying the Councils that the Association had perfected an organization, selected officers, and asked Councils to appoint a similar Committee from the Association to perfect rules for the government of the department.

Mr. Hanna stated that as the city paid the firemen for their services, the Councils should have the exclusive government of the Department, and moved that the communications be referred to the Committee on Fire Engines.

Mr. Smith hoped the motion would not prevail. The gentlemen composing the Association were good firemen and knew what was required from the Department. The city did pay the firemen, but the pittance was so small that it should not be considered. The speaker concluded by hoping that the request of the Association would be granted.

Mr. Reed, chairman of the Committee on Engines, said that he had been informed that at least one fire company of the city had refused to act with the Association.

Mr. Dill thought the entire matter should be referred to the committee which was appointed to govern the department.

Mr. Megraw said that the firemen should have a proper head. It was a matter of importance that a Chief Engineer should be selected, and the sooner it was done the better. If the men who formed the organization were not competent, the Committee would find it out and notify Councils of the fact. For his part, he was satisfied that the matter was all proper and right, and assuming a good shape.

Mr. Hanna denied that the "matter was all right." The fire department cons Allegheny City a "good bit" of money in a year, and he thought if any change was made it should be unanimous among the firemen themselves. He hoped the subject would be referred to the appropriate committee.

Mr. Megraw said that every company had joined the Association except one, which had stiffened its neck for a trifle. This disagreement should not have any effect, and Councils should recognize the Association.

Mr. Dill had been of the opinion that the Association was an independent organization, and only declared that he would recognize it. He did not know the parties who constituted it, and hoped Councils would refer the matter to the proper Committee, who could make the proper inquiries.

Mr. Smith said that five of the companies of the city had organized the Association, and all they desired was that Councils should recognize them and give them at official existence. The speaker said that he had been handed the communication a few minutes before presenting it, and was not aware of its contents at that time.

A vote was taken on Mr. Hanna's amendment, when it was declared lost.

The yeas and nays were then called on the passage of the resolution, which resulted in seven yeas to six nays—Messrs. Dill, Hanna, Moul, Reed and President Riddle voting in the negative.

A petition for the opening of Montgomery alley was read and referred to the Committee on Surveys.

A petition for a change of the grade of Jefferson street was read and referred to the Committee on Streets.

A petition for the continuation of water pipes on Western avenue to Beaver street, in the Fifth ward, was read and accepted.

Mr. McDonald, from the Committee on Claims, presented a report recommending the erection of a number of public gas lamps in various parts of the city. The report was accepted, and the recommendations adopted.

Mr. Moul presented the report of the Committee on Surveys, recommending the widening of Pitt alley. The report was received.

The report of the Committee on Markets, covering the reports of the Clerk of Markets and Weighmasters for the
